—The dry cold weather of the early winter months is productive of a great deal of croup among children. Mothers should be on the lookout for it, and be prepared to arrest it as soon as the first symptoms appear. True croup never comes without a warning; a day or two before the attack the child will become hoarse, and that symptom is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as this hoarseness or cough appears, all danger and anxiety may be avoided. It has never failed, even in the most severe cases. There is no danger in giving the Remedy for it contains no injurious substance. For Sale by G. C. Thaxter.

NEVADA WOULD LIKE A SLICE.

The Proposition to Annex a Good Sized Tract of California to the Sagebrush State.

WASHINGTON, January 8.—Senator Stewart favors the division of California on different lines from those proposed by Vandever. The following interview gives his views on the question: "Whatever the reason there may be in the favor of division, the northern portion of the State will be slow to consent to it, and such consent is necessary before it can be done. There is, however, a portion of California which naturally belongs to Nevada, and which Congress proposed should be a part of Nevada at the time Nevada Territory was first created, as will appear by the organic Act, which fixed the boundary between California and Nevada Territory at the summit of the Sierra, provided California would consent. If California would consent to cede to Nevada that portion of the State east of the summit of the Sierra, it would be of immense advantage to the people in the ceded territory and also to the people of Nevada."

"The following boundary would include that portion of the State of California which geographically belongs to Nevada. Commencing at the point where the south line of Inyo county intersects the western line of Nevada; thence west to the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains; thence northwardly along the summit of the forty-first degree of north latitude; thence due north to the southern boundary line of Oregon. This is substantially the boundary fixed by the Act of Congress of March 2, 1861, organizing the Territory of Nevada, with the exception that this boundary I propose extends a little farther south, to include all of Inyo county. Such annexation to Nevada is more important than at first supposed. The business of all the people of California on the eastern side of the Sierras is so connected with Nevada and the means of access are such as to make the people of this section of California and Nevada practically one."

"There is another consideration which makes annexation desirable, which has heretofore been overlooked. The streams from the eastern side of the Sierra Nevada nearly all pass through a portion of California into Nevada. These streams must be utilized for irrigation, and the question of jurisdiction in regulating the use of the water is becoming very embarrassing and will be more so in the future, and unless this difficulty can be reconciled much water will be wasted and vast tracts of land available for settlement by irrigation will remain desert. If California could be induced to consent to the annexation of this territory to Nevada it would greatly facilitate the development of a large section of country east of the mountains and greatly increase the resources of Nevada to maintain a State Government and relieve her of the reproach of an inadequate population for representation to Congress. It would also be beneficial to California. The expenses incurred by that State in the isolated section East of the Sierras will always be obtained therefrom, while if it were added to Nevada and utilize it as it might be under uniform laws, it would largely benefit California by contributing to its trade and commerce."

"Nevada is now tributary to California and always will be, and it is greatly for the interest of the latter State to develop the resources of Nevada. If this subject could be fairly considered by the people of California, I believe that they could see that it is to their interest as well to the interests of the people of Nevada, to consent to the annexation. I have thought and still think, that a union between Southern Idaho and Nevada would be beneficial to both sections; but the people of Idaho have manifested an unwillingness to be joined to Nevada, and Nevada cannot afford to insist upon annexations without the consent of the people. The people of California East of the Sierra Nevada mountains, I believe, would favor annexation, which makes the two cases entirely different, and, besides, it would furnish the best possible boundary between California and Nevada and avoid many complications."

THE SPECIAL ELECTION BILL.

The following is the substance of the Special Election bill introduced by Senator Sharon:

Sec. 1 provides that an election shall be held on the 11th day of February on amendments that shall be ready for submission under the conditions of the Constitution. (This will doubtless include the amendments of 1885, as they were not properly submitted at the last election and are therefore in the same condition as though they had not yet been before the people.)

Sec. 2—The State Board of Examiners shall cause the amendments to be published for two weeks prior to the election.

Sec. 3—The Secretary of State shall transmit certified copies of the amendments to be voted on to the County Commissioners at least fifteen days before the election. The County Commissioners shall cause their clerks to deliver to the Sheriff a proclamation of the purposes of the election at least a week prior to the date. Printed or written copies shall be posted in each precinct.

Sec. 4—The Secretary of State shall send a certified copy of the bill to the County Commissioners, also a list containing the numbers of the proposed amendments, on or before the time of issuing the proclamation.

Sec. 5—The County Commissioners shall appoint election officers in the manner provided by the General Election laws when they are not in conflict with this act.

Sec. 6—The Commissioners shall designate size and form of ballot, Ballots shall contain substantially the form—No—To amend section—Article yes.

No. To Amend Section
Article. Yes or No.

Sec. 7—The votes shall be canvassed after the usual manner and returns made to the Commissioners within five days.

Sec. 8—When returns are received by Commissioners, they shall send abstracts of returns to Secretary of State.

Sec. 9—When abstracts are received by the Secretary of State the Supreme Court shall canvass them and declare the result.

All returns shall be examined on or before February 27th.

Sec. 10—Provides for sending for return if they are not forwarded promptly.

Sec. 11—All voters who were registered in 1883, and are still qualified voters in their precinct shall be entitled to vote without further registration. The registry lists of 1883 are adopted and voters who are not registered, but now qualified, shall be entitled to register, prior to 6 o'clock p. m., of February 2, when the registry books shall be closed and no further notice of closing shall be required.

Sec. 12—The General Election laws shall be observed so far as applicable to this act and a penalty is provided for any of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 13—Provides that trifling informalities in the conduct of the election shall not invalidate the result.

Sec. 14—All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are repealed.

Held as Accessories.

Ed Pixley held as principle in the killing of Coronado is now in jail, and yesterday Justice Hawthorne held Joe Sullivan, Pete Millich and Fred Curry as accessories, and fixed their bail at $100 each. It was promptly furnished.

Jewelry Display.

There is a glittering display of jewelry, diamonds and ladies' watches in the show window of the Rinckel building. The designs are of the latest, and will be sold during holidays, at prices which can not be duplicated in the State.

The assortment embraces all kinds of the most fashionable jewelry and tableware. Call and inspect goods and prices.

*d15t CHATELAIN & GOLDEN.
